Exclusive adventures with a small group

Travelling in a small group means more flexibility in your itinerary, allowing spontaneous stops for wildlife sightings or cultural interactions that will truly enrich your journey. Travelling in smaller groups also reduces the impact to the local community and ecosystems. Join us to explore the magic of Kenya together with a close-knit group of fellow explorers.

A man and a woman are working together to plant a young tree in a savanna landscape. The man, on the left, is wearing a green polo shirt and dark trousers, and is holding a small tree with a root ball. The woman, on the right, is wearing a black t-shirt and glasses, and is using a shovel to dig a hole in the ground. The background shows a vast savanna with tall grass and a bright sky.

Be planet positive

Join us in this vital mission and leave a positive footprint on the environment while creating unforgettable memories with the local communities. This program invites you to roll up your sleeves and engage directly with meaningful initiatives designed to protect the planet's natural heritage.
